WASHINGTON, OCTOBER 20, 1887.

By the 1st of November about 2,000 Baltimore and Obio telegraph operators will be thrown out of employment. The Western Union provides for its own. The Lord will provide for rates of the B. and O. are al-

How much more of an advance to tes is to be expected time will tell.

Possibly the rise may stop where it is; but, if so, the public will enjoy its ex-emption from further extertion by sufferance, and not from any consulerdouscruples on the peri of Jay Gould.

It would be well perhaps if the schedules were doubled or tribled, for thus would the day of deliverance be basicned. Even now is it whispered by the oracles that the Government will build and operate a telegraph sys-tem of its own in the interest of the people rather than in the interest of grasping stockholders.

This will enable the country to get Its telegraph service at cost, and if Mr. Gould is prepared to underbid the Government in prices, so much the better for those who have to use the wires. One thing is certain, the mo-nopoly as it stands will not be left for any great length of time in the enjoyof the bonanza it has so long

THE ALASKAN QUESTION.

An impose rupture in the Cablect is those a of the gossips. Secretary By and is represented as being ready to resign unless the President sustains his views of the Alaskan fishery rights and ignores the conflicting views of the Attorney General,
As was to be expected, Secretary

Bayard authorizes an emphatic denial of these reports.

Secretary Bayard has recently asserted that this Government has not. through its diplomatic representatives, asserted its right to jurisdiction more than three miles from the Alaskan shore. He has intimated that he does not believe that such a claim could be sustained, and that a similar claim by Great Britain as to Canadian waters will not be conceded.

Secretary Bayard's position being thus pretty well known, it has also been seen that Attorney General Garland takes opposite grounds and has main-tained the right of the revenue marine vessels to make seizures more than vessels to make sergures more than three miles from the Alaskan shore. The President's only interference thus far has been to direct the release of vessels seized in opposition to Secretary Bayard's views. No matter how radical the difference of opinion be-tween the Cabinet officers a conflict of authority is not inevitable.

As to the foreign policy and diplo-matic claims of the Administration, Mr. Bayard is supreme unless the President overrules him, in which case he would doubtless resign, but of which there is not the slightest prospect. By virtue of his position, he can afford to be, and apparently is, indifferent to the views of the Attorney General; but the dif-ference is not of a hostile character, and thus far it is not apparent to Mr. Bayard or to the disinterested observer, that the Secretary of State has provocation for a row or a resignation.

THE views of several gentlemen, whose views are worth knowing, ap pear in to day's Curric relative to the proposed public hall. There is, of course, some diversity of opinion as to how the plan should be carried out. There are those who believe that an ornate and costly structure should be erected by individual subscriptions outright, and without regard to pecuplary returns, as an inducement to public bodies, associations and conventions to hold their meetings here. Others believe that the enterprise should be undertaken by a stock company as an investment and thus popularized, the people generally being invited to become shareholders. Still others, in view of the Corstitutional Cea-tennial and the Celebration of 1802, and of the great need that will consequently arise for half accommodations, believe that the proposed building should be put up by the General Government and become part of the assets of the Permanen: Expo sition. It is for the purpose of accer-taining the drift of public sentiment on this question that the committee of the Columbia Democratic Club bas re quested the District Commissioners to call a public meeting of citizens to con-sider the matter. It is a project that all are interested in, and all abould have an opportunity of presenting their ideas, as a means of arriving at some

CONMISSIONER EDGERTON IS NOT IN accord with Commissioner Oberly as to the position taken by the latter in his recent letter to the Illinois Democratic Association. He is inclined to look upon it as involving a strained con-struction of the law. Who shall decide when such veteran apostles of the Democratic faith are unable to harmon-ize? Mr. Edgerton says "the law is all right, and It only needs to be con atrued in accordance with common sense and practical experience." If The Carrie had a casting vote in the case it would state that the law was all wrong, and by no possibility can be construed "in accordance with common sense and practical experience." The |-[Frank O. Everett in the Beston Traveller probabilities are, however, that Commissioner Lyman will support Com-missioner Oberly, and that the Presi-dent, also, will be of the same mind. The law is to be taken as it is, good or bad, and interpretations that are war-ranted by its context, however abourd in themselves, are not of necessity

The Relic-Hunting Moob.

After the President and Mrs. Cleveland left the Palmer House there was a rish to the hotel to see the vacant apartments, and one lady offered $10 for the napkin which the lady of the White House had at her hasty breaktast that moraling. The same class of housers have besieged the manager of the Columbia Theatre for sprigs of evergreens from the decorations of the boxes. One of the strangest requests was by a woman who said she wanted some of these sprizes to place upon the coffin of her dead child. She is not so foolieh, however, as a young dudelsh thing that entered the Palmer House barber shop jest Sunday morning and wanted the harber who had shaved the President to extent to the form on his face.—[Chicago Mail.]
